A Rallway Train Precipitated into the Baugatuck River and Ten Passengers

Baugatuck River and Teb Passenger Bartford. Conn., Sept. 6.—The passenger rain on the Naugatuck Railroad, which left Waterbury at 7 o'clock last evening for Winsted, broke through the bridge across Branch river, about two miles from Thomaston. The couplings to the tender of the engine broke, and the baggage car went into the river.

Sixteen persons in the car were swept into the Naugatuck and carried over the dam at Thomaston. It floated three miles from the scene of the accident, and was at last secured, and five men clinging to it were rescued. Ten persons are supposed to be drowned. Six bodies have been recovered, one of them Lucius Skinner, Adams Express agent, of Winsted.

A son of Egbert W. Sperry, of Wolcottville, fitteen years of age, who left this city last evenfing for his home, was among the drowned. His body has been recovered. Mr. Skinner ran a biage from Winsted to Hartford thirty years stage from Winsted to Hartford thirty years stage from Winsted to Hartford thirty years and factories at Thomaston are closed, and all are engaged in searching for the bodies.

ANOTHER ACCOUNT: ANOTHER ACCOUNT.

WATERBURY, Conn., Sept. 6.—The passenger train which left this city at seven o'clock last evening for Winsted, Connecticut, broke through a bridge across Branch river. The soupling to the tender of the engine broke, and the baggage car went into the river. The force of the current wrenched the forward passenger ear from the track, leaving it with one end in three feet of water.

ear from the track, leaving it with one end in three feet of water.

The baggage-car, in which were sixteen permons, was swept down the river, which empties into the Naugatnek, a short distance from the bridge, and carried over the dam at Thomaston, two miles below and three miles from the meene of the accident.

Five men were clinging to it when it was finally storped.

Five men were clinging to it when it was finally stopped.

Among those who are missing and supposed to be lost are John Softly, foreman of Winsted Division of the road; Lucius Skinner, messenger of Adams Express Company; John Canty, trackman, from Winsted; Quinn and McKee, trackmen, from Winsted; and another trackman from Wolcottville; also a boy, name maknown.

All the mail and express matter was lost. Bix bodies have been found at different points on the river between the place where the accident occurred and Terry's factory, about two miles below Thomaston. One of them was that of Mr. Skinner, of Winsted, the Adams Express agent.

The boy who was lost was a son of Egbert W.
Sperry, of Wolcottville, formerly in the Hart ford Britannia Works. His body has been found. Four others are missing. The stores and factories in Thomaston are closed, and all are engaged in searching for bodies of the dead. Frightful Accident at the Chittenden County Fair in Vermont-Three Thousand People Thrown to the Ground by the Breaking of Seats-Fifty Persons Injured. BURLINGTON, Vt., Sept. 8,-At 4 o'clock this afternoon a frightful accident occurred during the races at the Chittenden County Fair grounds, in this city.

The seats, arranged in the form of an amphitheatre, while deusely crowded with spectators, fell to the ground with a fearful crash, bringing down with them over three thousand people. over fifty of whom were injured, some, it is supposed, fatally, and many with broken limbs.

The structure was over thirty feet high. That more were not injured is almost mile-

The Grotto Lupercale. An interesting piece of news, both from an antiquarian and historical point of view, comes antiquarian and historical point of view, comes from Rome. There has been brought to light by means of excavations in the grounds of the Pala inate, near the palaces of the Cæsars, the antique Grotto Lupercale. It is known that the histories, half religious and half civil, which are attached to this grotto go back as far as the Arcadians of Evandre, who raised an altar at this place to the god Pan. Afterwards, if we may believe the tradition, when the cradie which bore Romulus and Remus was cast upon the bank of the Tiber, these young adventurers grayled to this grotto, where they were suckled erawled to this grotto, where they were suckled by a wolf. The grotto from that time became doubly sacred, and took the name Lupercale. This grotto, with the addition which had been made about and above it, was respected until the time of Augustus, but it subsequently dis-appeared with other heathen alters, destroyed by the hands of the Christians. M. Gori, who has the credit of this discovery, came upon it while following up the course of a pure stream of water which fell into the great Tarquin sewer, but which came from an unknown source. found that this stream was fed by waters which came from the heart of the Palatia forest into the Grotto Lupercale and to the foot of this altar to Pan. Of the sanctified basin which secured this water but a few fragments remein. The source of the sacred stream has survived the temple and the temple its deity.

Ruin from Secessionism.

Ruin from Secessionism.

The following is an extract from a letter by Herschel V. Johnson, formerly United States Senator, and candidate for the Vice-Presidency on the bouglas ticket:—

"As you perhaps know, I resisted secession as long as it was an open question. But when my State resolved upon it, I cast my lot with the fortunes of my people, feeling confident that we should 'reap the whiriwind.' I have not been disappointed; and, though I never cherished an emotion of hostility to the Constitution, or the Union of my forefathers under it, though I have spent a quarter of a century in trying to uphold both, yet I now find myself, at the end of such a career, disfranchised, and assigned a position, in respect to political and civil rights, inferior to that of my former slaves. My home was in the track of Sherman's march. His army destroyed nearly everything I possessed, including my private papers and title-deeds, and reduced me from comfort to poverty. If I were young, and could be let alone, I might raily from my prostration; but, at my time of life, in view of present surroundings, and the darkness that curtains the future, I scarcely hope to be able to feed and clothe my family. I say these things in no spirit of unmanly repining. Poverty is a misfortune; but I would welcome it if, by the sacrifice, I could bring back to life the liberties of my country and the glories of the old Union."

The Governor of California.

Henry H. Haight, said to be elected Governor of California, is a native of Rochester, in this of California, is a native of Rochester, in this State, and is on the sunny side of forty-five years. He is a son of Fletcher M. Haight, formerly a distinguished lawyer in Rochester and in St. Louis, and subsequently eminent at the bar of San Francisco. He was, during the last years of his life, District Judge of California, appointed by Mr. Lincoln. The younger Mr. Haight graduated at Yale College in 1841 or 45; studied law in Rochester, and has practised most successfully at the bar both in St. Louis and San Francisco. He is a man of very decided talents, most pleasing address, and irreproachable character.—N. Y. Commercial Advertiser.

Ancient Pottery.

Ancient Pottery.

M. Fouque, of the College of France, has recently returned from a journey of exploration in the Island of Santorin, where he has found fragments of pottery, which are the more interesting because he has gathered them himself from a vegetable soil, at a depth of dve or six metres, where they were overstrewn with objects carved in silver, and other little objects of gold. These objects, such as knives, poluts of arrows, and sharp blades, appear to prove that the age of working in clay and stone was lollowed immediately and easily by the use of metals, and that the employment of vessels and tools of stone was active at the moment when commercial relations with one and another nation were in their infancy, for these potteries appear to have been fabricated upon the coasts of Asia Minor.

The Express War.

The important suit of Waterbury vs. Ross and others of the Executive Committee of the Merchants' Union Express Company, before Judge Bernard in Chambers, has been decided in favor of the Merchants' Union Company, the Judge denying the motion of the plaintin for the appointment of a receiver, in an opinion which at some length reviews all the facts and law involved in the case. The Court finds the Merchants' Union Company solvent, owing no debts, and with several hundred thousand dollars in the treasury —N. Y. Koming Post.

FROM WASHINGTON THIS

"TAMPERING WITH THE CONSTITUTION."

Gen. Ord Removing Rebels from Office.

YELLOW FEVER IN NEW ORLEANS

[SPECIAL DESPATCHES TO EVENING TRINGRAPH.]

General Ord Removing Rebels. Washington, Sept. 7.—General Ord is following in Sheridan's footsteps. He has removed the Mayor, City Marshal, and Councilmen of Vicksburg, and appointed in their stead General J. A. Maltby, Mayor; Captain A. C. Fisk, City Marshal; Captain Hynes, Deputy City Marshal, and Unionists for Councilmen, Other removals will be made there soon. The Yellow Fever.

During August one thousand and thirty-nine deaths occurred in New Orleans, of which two hundred and flity-five were from yellow fever. Personal.

William Prescott Smith, Esq., Collector of Internal Revenue in Battimore, who went to Europe some time since to investigate and re-port on the revenue system in operation there, particularly in England, has just returned, and will soon make his report.

The Effect of the California Election. The result of the California election has evidently determined the President to pursue a much bolder and more aggressive course than be has neretofore pursued in the matter of reconstruction.

The Amnesty Proclamation. It is said to-day that the Amnesty Proclama-tion will not be issued before Wednesday next. It is still incomplete in details, and will probably be made the subject of another discussion in the Cabinet meeting on Tuesday. Mr. Seward was in consultation with the President alconsiderable time this morning, it is under-alconsiderable time this morning, is is understood upon this subject.

The opinion of the Cabinet that the Amnesty Proclamation reinstates pardoned Rebels in the right to vote, is in direct opposition to the interpretation of the law by the radical Congressmen, who contend that the Proclamation, while it relieves those thus pardoned form they discussed to the content of the cont

Proclamation, while it relieves those thus par-doned from other disabilities, does not confer the right to vote. That the classes entitled to vote are specified in the Reconstruction acts, and the President cannot, by proclamation, change the law of the land.

The President, on the other hand, contends that the Constitution gives him power to par-don and relieve parties from all civil disabili-ties, and he is determined to exercise that right-instructions to this effect to the commanding Instructions to this effect to the commanding officers of the Military Districts may be looked for immediately after the proclamation is promulgated.
The weather is excessively warm to-day.

THE PEACE OF EUROPE.

RESCUE OF THE YACHT JOHN T. FORD.

Etc., Etc., Etc., Etc., Etc., Etc.

Berlin, Sept. 7—Evening.—A pacific note has been issued from the Prussian Foreign Office, in which the recent note of M. Moustier, the French Foreign Minister, is alluded to as highly French Foreign Minister, is alluded to as highly satisfactory to the Prussian Government.

London, Sept. 7—Evening.—The little schooner-yacht John T. Ford, from Baltimore for Paris, before reported capsized at the entrance of the English channel, was found, a day or two since, on the ceast of Ireland, near Queenstown, whether she had drifted. Valuable papers and other articles were found on board and taken to a place of safety.

The Indian War.

St. Louis, Sept. 7.—Omaha despatches report that the steamer St. John, bearing the Indian Commissioners, was fired into near Fort Sully by the Indians, but no damage was done. Major-Generals Rawlings and Dodge, and Major-Dunn, of General Grant's staff; Colonel Mesimer, commanding the escort; Mr. Van Lemont, geologist, Dr. Perry, and John E. Corwith, of the engineering party, were at Salt Lake August 29. Seven coaches arrived at Denver on the 1st inst., with 225 sacks of mail matter.

From Providence. PROVIDENCE, R. I., Sept. 7.—Chief Justice Chase goes to New York to-night, and leaves that city for Washington on Tuesday next.

THE "COMMERCIAL TRAVELLER" AT THE CEN-THE "COMMERCIAL TRAVELLER" AT THE CENTRAL STATION.—This afternoon a very amusing occurrence transpired at the Central Station, where Alderman Beitler was sitting as committing magistrate. The name of William P. Belton was called, whereupon that gentleman appeared and asked for a few minutes' delay, in anticipation of the arrival of a couple of friends. Mr. Belton, with whom the public is already familiar as the "Commercial Traveller," who contested a seat in the Third District Democratic Senatorial Convention on Tuesday last, and had an additional "head put on him" by way of reward for his political zeal. on him" by way of reward for his political zeal was somewhat improved in appearance, and was able to open both eyes by a desperate effort. But his head and face still bore the marks of his terrific combat with the "bounty-jumpers." as he calls them.

he calls them.

In a few minutes Mr. Belton said to the Alderman that he would ask no further delay, but would conduct the case himself.

Mr. Timothy Heenan was then put upon the stand, and stated that he was a blacksmith by trade, and resided at No. 9 Walnut street; on the 3d of September he attended the Convention as a delegate, and was attacked by Belton as he was about entering the door; Belton caught him around the neck and struck him in the eyes, whereupon he struck Belton; there in the eyes, whereupon he struck Belton; there had been no previous difficulty.

The following collequy ensued:—
Belton (his huge sides shaking with laughter)
—What kind of a blacksmith are you?
Heenan (after some hesitation and paricying)
—A carriage blacksmith.
Belton (shaking, more than ever)—How long have you resided here?
Heenan—Three years.

have you resided here?

Heenan—Three years,
Belton (growing more and more jolly)—Have you worked at your trade during that time?
Heenan (Belton meanwhile exploding with lughter)—No.
Belton (to the Alderman)—It is unnecessary to ask any more questions of this blacksmith. He has no visible means of support, and his real trade is known to everybody in this Court.
Heenan—I have been in the Custom House for nearly a year.

Heenau-i have been in the Custom House for heavy a year.

Bellon-Yes, there have been a lot of bounty-jump-size there, but they are dropping out gradually.

Joseph R. Tateh, then took the stand and testified that he also was interfered with by Belton on the occasion referred to, being thrown about and pushed against the wall.

The "Commercial Traveller" questioned him with great good humor concerning his bounty jumping procitylises, and, finally, with a great affort to repress his merriment, inquired:—"Are you not the most not referred to the control of the property of the control of the process of the control of the process of the control of

He then sank down in an ecstacy of merriment, and the Alderman residented him to give ball in tecto oppear at Court, scaking into a store on Rank street, and stealing a box of suspenders.

HEADINGS AT THE CENTRAL STATION.—This Remove James Gilmors had a hearing before Alderian Beitler, at the Central Station, charged with eaking into a store on Rank street, and stealing a nat of suspenders.

At the time of the sheft a policeman happened to be coming along, and observed Gilmore carrying off the box. He then gave chase, but falled in reaching him, Gilmore being the fastest runner. Subsequently the suspenders were found in the College window, on Nich street, where they had been evidently thrown by the young rogue when he was pursued by the officer. This morning the accused was arrested, and locked up for a hearing. He was held to answer for his thievish propensities in $600 bail.

Charles Danenbower was also held in the same amount, as an accomplice of Gilmore.

A Costly Timepiece.

The Marquis of Heriford is well known in Europe as the possessor of a rare and valuable collection of pictures, and also for his great taste and enthusiasm for bric-a-brac and rare antiquities. He has recently indulged himself in this direction to the extent of the enormous amount of forty five thousand france which he More About the Amnesty Proclamation. paid a Mr. Maillet for a clock which is in the style called Boulle, and which is considered a masterpiece in its way. This clock belonged to the municipality of Yvordun, Switzerland, to whom it was given in 1765 by a salt merchant, as an evidence of his gratitude after a long so-Ete., Ete., Ete., Mtc., Dto., Ete. journ in that city. The clock, which, including a bronze pedestal, is some three feet in height, is composed of bronze and black ivory. The description does not appear to justify the enormous price paid for it; yet at the sales of bric-abrac which frequently take place at the great auction mart of Paris, the Hotel Druet, there is always a large crowd of eager buyers who expend large sums for articles which have no intrinsic value.
